Long Beach Transit Announces Summer Schedule for 2010 Museum Express Program

Customers Can Reserve Direct Transportation Access to a Variety of Southern California's Finest Museums

LONG BEACH, CALIF. (May 17, 2010) – Back by popular demand, Long Beach Transit will provide Museum Express bus service again this summer to a variety of local museums. This year the program will be offered over a slightly condensed schedule, with trips operating on Thursdays through Sundays, from June 24 to August 15, 2010. Museum fans will be transported in air conditioned comfort directly to many renowned museums and gardens throughout Southern California for only $8.00 per round trip. Friendly, professional bus operators provide customers with the superior transportation service that Long Beach Transit is known for on ADA accessible buses, with room for up to two wheelchairs per trip.

Customers can avoid standing in long lines to purchase Museum Express tickets by using an early mail-in registration process. Registration forms are available at www.lbtransit.com, or by calling (562) 591-2301 and can be submitted to Long Beach Transit at 1963 E. Anaheim Street, the Transit Information Center on the Long Beach Transit Mall, or by simply mailing it to the address on the form. Tickets will be processed within 10 business days. Over-the-counter sales begin June 3rd at the Transit Information Center located at 130 1st Street. Entry fees to the venues are not included with the price of the Museum Express ticket.

Public parking is available near the Transit and Visitor Information Center in downtown Long Beach where the Museum Express departs and returns. Transit information is available by calling (562) 591-2301 or visiting us on the web at www.lbtransit.com.

The 2010 Museum Express program will offer a variety of destinations that include:

- Mission San Juan Capistrano
- Getty Center
- Norton Simon Museum
